JDCC’s Psi Beta Members Participate in Service Projects and Activities

By Tameka Stanley

In support of its mission, which includes the promotion of excellence in areas such as leadership and community service, JDCC’s Psi Beta Honor society has had a busy Fall Term participating in various service oriented projects, including making donations to the Nursing Program’s Backpacks For Kids Project. Psi Beta students also collected numerous non perishable items for the local Food Bank. Other activities included preparing a Personal Care Package for nursing home residents at West Gate Village and sponsoring a child for the SGA Angel Tree recipients. Thanks to all who participated in the projects, and especially to those who donated to the annual food drive project.

JDCC Cheerleaders Increase Warhawk Spirit

By Courtney Folsom

This year’s cheerleading squad is as spirited as ever. The girls have been practicing for months and now finally have the chance to show their skills. The JDCC cheerleaders perform at the Warhawks’ Basketball home games, where they entertain the crowd with their stunts, dances, and cheers. The squad consists of ten girls who all enjoy cheering for our Warhawks. In addition to the basketball games, the girls taught cheers to the Neal Middle cheerleaders as well as several other girls in other clinics. The girls will also be marching in the Christmas parade on December 8th. So, if you don’t like basketball, come to the game anyway to watch our talented cheerleaders jump, cheer, and dance.

JDCC’s Cheerleaders always have something to smile about. Go Warhawks!!
Phi Beta Lambda’s Turkey Raffle Winners

As most know, Phi Beta Lambda held a raffle where the winner would receive either a Thanksgiving turkey or a ham dinner from Winn Dixie. The drawing was sponsored by the Atmore and Brewton Phi Beta Lambda members, who would like to thank all who supported them in buying raffle tickets. The winner of the delicious prize was Jamia Presley. If you missed your chance at the prize this time, don’t worry. Phi Beta Lambda will hold a similar drawing for an Easter basket in the spring. Also in the spring, the organization will be collecting stuffed animals to present to Sacred Heart Hospital patients who are children. If you would like to donate, contact a PBL member or sponsor.

SGA Angel Tree Project a Success

The 2007 JDCC SGA Angel Tree Project was a great success. The SGA received 65 names from Brewton and Atmore, which were placed on the Angel Trees on both campuses. All the angels were taken from both trees, and many children will have a happier holiday because of the generosity of those who donated gifts, time, and money to this project. Many thanks to those students, faculty, and staff who participated.

PTK Members Travel to Honors Seminar in Jackson, Mississippi

Jefferson Davis Community College students from Phi Theta Kappa participated in the Honors Satellite Seminar at International Headquarters in Jackson, Mississippi on November 13, 2007. The Alpha Eta Lambda Chapter at JDCC fellowshiped with the Jefferson State and Lurleen B. Wallace community colleges. The group toured Headquarters as they learned about how the Phi Theta Kappans conduct everyday business. That evening the chapters attended a live Honors satellite Seminar on the Honors Study topic of Gold, Gods, and Glory: The Global Dynamics of Power. The speaker, Kevin Phillips, spoke about American Theocracy: Politics, Radical Religion, Oil and Borrowed Money in the 21st Century. He highlighted the five main reasons that global empires fell and how our society today in America closely mirrors some of those nations. The students were actively involved and asked questions of Mr. Phillips.

Lyrical Lounge Ends Fall Season

Lyrical Lounge, JDCC’s popular monthly poetry slam, will bid a fond farewell and best wishes to its founders, students Matt Kemp and Willie Taylor. As they move on to transfer colleges, we hope the tradition which they began will continue. Lyrical Lounge is held on the last Wednesday of every month in the Neal Auditorium, from 11:00 AM to 11:30 AM. We are in need of new talent to add to those who attend. We hope to see you there in January!

Best Wishes for a safe and Happy Holiday Season from the Warhawk Word Staff!!!

Honors Updated

By Courtney Folsom

The end of the semester is near, which means it is time for the annual honors trip. This year, the group will be traveling to Atlanta where they will enjoy visiting various cultural activities such as the Georgia Aquarium and The World of Coke. Also, the Honors program has chosen to sponsor two children, a boy and a girl, from the angel tree. They bought the children various Christmas goodies sure to be enjoyed. On December 15, the students will participate in Operation Santa Claus, also to help children at Christmas. Next semester holds more things on the agenda for this program including a career planning class.

Best Wishes for a safe and Happy Holiday Season from the Warhawk Word Staff!!!
